I saw this film in a sneak preview and it is delightful The cinematography is unusually creative the acting is good and the story is fabulous if this movie does not do well it won't be because it doesn't deserve to Before this film I didn't realize how charming Snia Leboufbe could be He does a marvelous self contained job as the lead There's something incredibly sweet about him and it makes the movie even better The other actors do a good job as well and the film contains moments of really high suspense more than one might expect from a movie about golf Sports movies are a dime a dozen but this one stands out This is one I'd recommend to anyone
